Fung Bing Quong being first duly sworn, deposes and says: that he is one of the above named applicants for return certificates, and the other applicants are affiant's wife and children.

That affiant's father died in China about two years ago, and that his estate has never been settled; that affiant's mother is now and has been for several years very sick; that she has had several operations performed by American doctors who now hold out no hope of recovery of affiant's mother, and state that she has but a short time to live.

That Affiants mother has requested her son, said Fung Quong Bing to visit her before she dies, and affiant is very desirous of complying with her request, and is very anxious to see and to talk to her.

That affiant's said mother gave a letter to Ho Mon upon his departure from China for the United States to be given to her son, your affiant, and that in said letter she begs her son to come to China in order that she may see him before she dies.

That affiant's son, Fung Ten Quon, nine years of age now resides in China with affiant's said mother, and affiant desires to make arrangements with some one in China to take care of his son, or, if affiant is permitted to depart for China, to bring his son to the United States when he returns.

That in case of the death of affiant's said mother, there will be no one in China to look out for and care for the estate of his father or her estate, and that it is necessary for affiant to visit China for the reasons above stated.

That the only reason affiant has for taking his family with him is that he may have their company, and that they may see affiant's mother before she dies.

Sir:

In re case of FUNG BING QUONG, serial number 892, native who wishes to depart for China and who requested that his case be investigated before departure:

I have taken the statement of the applicant and his father and mother and find no discrepancies whatever in their testimony. The mother is a native born American and presents a Court Record to that effect. The father is a merchant and has been in this country for many years.

From the testimony adduced I am of the opinion that this applicant has established his nativity.

Respectfully,
